Theme of the Week

This week's theme of the week is about Ramadan, which is a month of fasting for Muslims observed during the ninth month of the Islamic calendar. Many Muslims fast between daylight hours for a month, and celebrate the end of the month with a festival called Eid ul-Fitr. The date for Ramadan changes every year – this year it will be observed between 15th May-14th June.

Fasting does not mean Muslims retreat from their daily routine, rather they are encouraged to continue as normal in their work and usual activities. In fact, this is where the challenge of patience and endurance comes in. Muslims believe fasting is not merely a physical ritual, but is primarily a time for reflection and spiritual recharging. During the fast, Muslims believe that their desires are curbed and that they can gain understanding of how those who are less privileged than them feel. It is considered to increase one's patience, closeness to God and generosity towards others. The month is also a time of community; it is the custom for Muslims to invite their neighbours and friends to share their evening meal when they break the fast – iftar – and recite special Tarawih prayers in congregation. It is also a time when Muslims try to reconnect with the Qur'an, which they believe is the word of God.

If you would like to find out more about fasting during Ramadan, including why it is done, when it is observed and who is exempt from fasting, there is a copy presentation attached to this newsletter. There are also links to some interesting videos and photographs of the festival of Eid which marks the end of the month of Ramadan.

We do have pupils at Beechen Cliff observing the fast this year, so it is a good opportunity to find out more about this practice, and to think about the challenges these pupils will face. In addition, to also to think about what we, as a community, could do to support pupils who are fasting.

Exciting Hosting Opportunity

Do you have a spare room?

Due to the success of our Euroclass Programme, we are looking for caring and welcoming Hayesfield families to host our Norwegian 6th Form students for the duration of the Autumn Term 2018.

The group is a mix of boys and girls who are looking for accommodation within Bath and easy access to the school whilst they study here to experience British culture and improve their English.

The students would be hosted individually within a home from home environment, which provides daily home cooked meals and a bedroom with a study area. Ideally with an en-suite so they have their own privacy and space but not essential if you can accommodate an extra person in your home.

We provide a generous weekly allowance of £180 per week as tax-free living expenses.

If you would like an application form or would like to find out more information, then please contact Fiona Harrison via the Sixth Form Office or email international@hayesfield.com

Word of the Week: Supplementary

An adjective to describe

= something added, usually in order to improve or add detail - to supplement it.

Use it:

"This income is supplementary to my other job, and I enjoy the chance to earn extra money for luxuries."

"Please provide any supplementary information on a separate sheet to the application form."

"These vitamins and minerals are supplementary to my recommended daily intake of nutrients."

The interviewer asked supplementary questions in addition to those planned by the panel.

Spell it:

Get the ending correct -

Think: supplementary = additional

'TimeRiders: The Eternal War' by Alex Scarrow

Continuing the heart-pounding, time-bending action of the TimeRiders series, The Eternal War brings readers back to a pivotal time period in American history: the Civil War. Only this alternate history is one where a young Abraham Lincoln has somehow followed Liam into the present from 1831, and the entire course of American history has changed. If the TimeRiders can't return Lincoln to the past, the country could be trapped in a dangerous state of never-ending civil war. Can Maddy persuade two colonels on either side of no man's land to cease fire long enough to save the future?
