Duke of Edinburgh

The expedition season has now closed and the Silver qualifying expedition took place over the 9th to 11th of November. The weather was changeable with the forecast strong wind and rain on the Friday afternoon and overnight. Saturday was a better day with bouts of strong winds and horizontal rain. Sunday was completely clear. These conditions certainly tested all students, kit and equipment being used. I am sure each group will have their own specific memories of this expedition in Wild Country. Now we need to arrange the presentation of the project which needs to be complete before the end of term. Well done to all students, the Silver series of expeditions was certainly soggy but you did it!

At the same time there was a Gold practice expedition. From an initial group of five this group grew into two teams of six, one per school, and they certainly seemed to enjoy themselves. There is a Gold practice expedition scheduled for the current Year 12 entry in March 2019 and will be open to Year 13 if they wish.

Now get ready for the 2019 expedition season.

Theme of the Week

This week's Theme of the week is focusing on Transgender awareness week.

Transgender Awareness Week is a time for transgender people and their allies to take action and bring attention to the community by educating the public and advancing advocacy around the issues of prejudice, discrimination, and violence that transgender people face.

Transgender is a term used to describe people whose gender identity differs from the sex they were assigned at birth. Gender identity is a person's internal, personal sense of being a man or a woman (or boy or girl.) For some people, their gender identity does not fit neatly into those two choices. For transgender people, the sex they were assigned at birth and their own internal gender identity do not match.

People in the transgender community may describe themselves using one (or more) of a wide variety of terms, including (but not limited to) transgender, transsexual, and non-binary.

Trying to change a person's gender identity is no more successful than trying to change a person's sexual orientation -- it doesn't work. So most transgender people seek to bring their bodies into alignment with their gender identity. This is called transition.

As part of the transition process, many transgender people are prescribed hormones by their doctors to change their bodies. Some undergo surgeries as well. But not all transgender people can or will take those steps, and it's important to know that being transgender is not dependent upon medical procedures.

The link below will take you to a series of videos, I would recommend hearing Tiq Milan or Jodie Patterson's stories.

Students may well of watched the recent TV series called Butterfly that was a fantastic story of a young boy transitioning to a girl.

Thank you.

Literacy

Reader of the week

George (7ML6) has taken 7 Accelerated Reader quizzes so far this academic year, averaging a 90% pass rate and reading 752,275 words. This amounts to 107 points awarded to Milton. Very well done, George!

Reading Millionaires

This week we have our first reading millionaires of the year! Noah (7ML7) has now read 2,068,626 words and Oscar (7ML6) has read 1,785,587 since September, and have therefore become our first millionaires. Great reading boys – your names are now up on the millionaires board in the library for all to see!

Book Recommendation

H.I.V.E by Mark Walden (Accelerated Reader Book Level 7.5)

H.I.V.E. (Higher Institute of Villainous Education) is a top-secret school of applied villainy where children with a precocious gift for wrongdoing are sent to develop their talents into criminal mastermind. After all, 'villains have the best lines and wear the best costumes'. One small catch is that the children cannot leave until training is complete, six years later. With villainy comes a certain freedom of thought, and every year one student in particular will show exceptional talent - after all, it takes the best to produce the worst. This year there are two students: Otto Malpense and his new friend Wing Fanchu are both exceptionally bad, and they are definitely not keen on being held against their will for six long years . . .
